

Big operation nets charges against 30

Forum talks on housing

BAYSIDE housing representatives were treated to a unique African feast at the Bayside Uniting Church hall on March 28.

BABI Youth and Family Support invited real estate agents to enjoy spicy casseroles, rice and meat dishes prepared by Sudanese women as part of the Welcoming the Strangers project.

The dinner marked the end of the BABI initiative to promote community harmony and welcome the Sudanese community.

An open forum was held with Liz Edson from Raine and Horne and Gabriel Ukono, a Sudanese elder, taking questions from the district's new residents on housing issues.

Richard Lamont from BABI said he was thankful to the bayside community for the welcome the Sudanese people had received.

"They want to feel a sense of security and stability for their children," Mr Lamont said.

He said many families like to rent homes near each other, but success with housing the new residents had been patchy.

This limited success was due to the restricted numbers of rental homes available in the area.
